With international success that has driven her record sales into the multi-millions globally, she has been tireless on the concert/ live performance front since breaking as a major artist in the Christian music industry while still in her teens. Rebecca was in 2008 for the 7th consecutive year named "Favorite Female Artist" in Contemporary Christian Music by readers of CCM Magazine. She has received RIAA certified gold album awards—for her ground-breaking album God and her Grammy Award winning project Pray, certified gold in 2006. A passionate spokesperson for the child relief work of Compassion International, more than 30,000 of the world's neediest children have found sponsorship through her worldwide concerts. Her latest book, Pure, reached Top 10 on the CBA Bestseller List in February 2009. Rebecca's interests in acting have found her involved in several national film productions, touring in a lead role as Mary Magdalene in the national company of the rock opera musical, !Hero, and voicing the character of 'Hope The Angel' in VeggieTales' best selling DVD production, The Easter Carol, now approaching a million units in sales after a major re-release in '09.
